

The Scorbit “Game Scoring Contest” Competition

OFFICIAL RULES

NO PURCHASE NECESSARY TO ENTER OR WIN.

ALL FEDERAL, STATE AND LOCAL LAWS AND REGULATIONS APPLY (“APPLICABLE LAWS”).

VOID WHERE PROHIBITED OR RESTRICTED BY LAW.

1. Promotion Details

1.1 The Scorbit “Concept Art Scoring Contest” Competition (the "Competition") is sponsored by Scorbit, and any and all of its decisions on all matters relating to this Competition will be final and binding. The Competition consists of a skill based competition in which prospective entrants create a musical composition, as further described in Section 2 below.

1.2 By entering the Competition you agree that you have read and understood these Terms and Conditions and agree that you will be bound by them. These Terms and Conditions govern your relationship with Scorbit, whose address is PO Box 9904, Chapel Hill, NC, 27516, United States (“Scorbit”). These Terms and Conditions form part of the rules of entering this Competition (the “Rules”). Entering the Competition you agree that you have read, agree to and are bound by the Rules.

2. Participation

2.1 To enter the Competition, you must submit a composition (the “Composition”), which shall be created based on the concept art image by Michael Ackerman (the “Concept Art”), and will consist of three audio stems, each loopable, and each 30 seconds in length.

2.2 Entry to the competition is made by you downloading the contest package via the webpage: <http://scorbit.org/contest> Then you will need to create your Composition(s). Once you have created your Composition(s) you will submit your Composition(s) via the official competition submission page: <http://scorbit.org/submit> and follow the instructions on the webpage. For any submission to be deemed complete, you must provide responses to the questions in the contest submission form section of the website (<http://scorbit.org/submit>), as well as any requested contact information.

2.3 The Competition will run from 09:00:00 AM EST (15:00:00 CET) on Friday October 13, 2017 (the “Starting Date”) and continue through 23:59:00 PM EST (05:59:00 CET the following day) on Friday November 17, 2017 (the “Closing Date”) (collectively the “Competition Period”). For the avoidance of doubt no entries will be counted before or after the Competition Period. At the end of the Competition Period, Scorbit will judge the

Competitions and select up to ten (10) finalists, which will then go to a judging panel determined by Scorbit to select the winners

All Compositions must be uploaded by 23:59:00 PM EST (05:59:00 CET the following day) on November 17, 2017. Entry is not complete until you have properly followed all the online prompts and instructions to upload your Composition so that your Composition submission is received and you have affirmatively accepted the Rules.

2.4 You may submit more than one Composition in this Competition, however, any duplicate entries will be deleted. Compositions that are incomplete, garbled, corrupted, or unintelligible for any reason, including, but not limited to, computer or network malfunction or congestion (including, without limitation, at Scorbit's and/or any other entity's servers), are void and will not be accepted.

Scorbit's use of the Composition

2.5 Pursuant to Section 3 below, any Composition will be licensed to Scorbit on a royalty-free (except where prohibited by applicable law), irrevocable basis (see Section 3 "Grant of Rights" below). For the purpose of clarity, Scorbit does not have the right to distribute or sell your Composition to a third party. The license you grant to Scorbit may be used to feature your Composition on Scorbit's website, or in conjunction with promotional materials for the contest, for future contests, or for the site. Scorbit is under no obligation to make any use of any Composition submitted. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Scorbit may use, edit and adapt the Composition you supply in any manner or medium.

Other People and Other Materials

2.6 You warrant and represent that any Composition you supply is your original creation, shall not have been exploited previously in any manner or medium, shall not be in the public domain, shall not contain any uncleared samples or interpolations, and shall not infringe upon or violate the rights of any person or entity, and that you shall be solely responsible for and shall pay all costs relating whatsoever to the creation of any such Composition. You further warrant and represent that you have obtained all necessary rights with respect to creating and producing any Composition, and that you shall be solely responsible for obtaining any and all required licenses, permissions and consents from third parties, including any performers, in connection with the creation and supply of any Composition.

3. Grant of Rights

3.1 You will, at the request of Scorbit, execute any additional documentation reasonably required by Scorbit to further assure the grant of rights hereunder.

3.2 Scorbit may at its sole discretion opt not to use, without notice or reason, any Composition that Scorbit believes is inappropriate or in breach of these Rules.

4. Representations and Warranties

4.1 You represent and warrant to Scorbit that:

(a) each Composition supplied by you does not and shall not violate the rights of any third party, including, but not limited to, copyrights, performer's rights, moral rights, trademark rights and/or any other intellectual property rights; and

(b) no Composition supplied by you contains any uncleared samples or interpolations; and

(c) each Composition supplied by you does not and shall not create any liability for Scorbit, its successors and assigns and/or any of their respective licensees; and

(d) each Composition supplied by you is an original work by you and you have all necessary rights, licenses, consents and permissions to use, and to authorize Scorbit to use, any and all copyrights, performance rights or other intellectual property rights in and to the Composition in order to use the Composition as contemplated herein.

5. Indemnification

5.1 You agree to indemnify, defend and hold harmless Scorbit, its successors, licensees and assigns and the licensors of each, and your respective, affiliates, vendors, distributors from and against any and all claims, obligations, damages, losses, expenses, and costs, including reasonable attorneys' fees, resulting from:

(a) any breach of these Rules;

(b) any use of a Composition supplied by you or by any other person or third party under these terms of use, including, but not limited to, any third party claim of infringement of a copyright or other intellectual property right or invasion of privacy.

6. The Winners

6.1 After the Competition Period up to ten (10) Compositions (each a "Finalist") will be selected from all valid entries, by Scorbit (the "Judges"), in their sole discretion. Compositions will be judged based upon the following criteria: 1) How well it matches the concept art image (25%); 2) How well it works from a technical standpoint (25%); 3) The quality of the composition (25%); and 4) The quality of the production (25%) ("Judging Criteria"). The Finalists will be those that receive the highest overall score, subject to verification of eligibility and compliance with these Rules. The Judges' decision is final. The Finalist(s) Composition(s), subject to Scorbit's sole discretion, may be featured on the website and/or web channels (for example Facebook page) of Scorbit. After the Finalists have been selected, the Compositions will be reviewed by a judging panel selected by Scorbit, based on the same criteria above. The Compositions with the highest and second highest score will become the grand prize winner (the

The Finalists will be announced by Scorbit on or around November 21, 2017. The Finalists will further be contacted by email directly by Scorbit to be notified that they have been chosen. Scorbit will not notify unsuccessful entries.
